Blue Cross HMO

The Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) option provides the greatest coverage for the lowest out-of-pocket expense due to the predetermined payment arrangements agreed upon by the plan and contracted providers. As an HMO member your health services are accessed and directed through your Primary Care Physician (PCP) and your Participating Medical Group. Any referrals within your Participating Medical Group and/ or hospital admissions should be coordinated through your PCP. For each office visit, you only pay your co-payment. There is no coverage outside the network with the exception of medically necessary emergencies. Consult provider directories or the Blue Cross website at www.bluecrossca.com for a complete list of participating physicians.

HMO Frequently Asked Questions

Can I change my PCP/Participating Medical Group?

Yes, you have this option up to once a month. Simply contact Blue Cross's Customer Service for more information.

Must all of my family members have the same PCP/Participating Medical Group?

No, each family member can select their own PCP/ Participating Medical Group from Blue Cross's list of providers.

How is emergency care covered out of the service area?

The same level of benefits is available for Emergency Care. Call your PCP before seeking medical care in non life threatening situations.

Blue Cross PPO

The Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) plan provides the greatest amount of flexibility for members. Members are free to see any physician in or out of Blue Cross's network. If you choose a provider in Blue Cross's PPO network you will have a lower out of pocket expense. Certain services require you to satisfy a deductible, co-payment and/or co-insurance.

PPO Frequently Asked Questions

What if I need to see a specialist?

You may go directly to any specialist; however, depending on the procedures the specialist performs, prior authorization may be necessary.

The same level of benefits is available for emergency care in and out of network. Once the covered person can be safely transferred to a Participating Provider, the covered person must be transferred to continue to receive In-Network level of benefits.

What if my doctor is not an In-Network PPO provider?

Services will be covered according to your schedule of benefits. For PPO members this means that your services will be paid at the Out-of-Network level. Review your Summary of Benefits for specific benefit information.

Kaiser Medical Plan

The Kaiser medical plan option requires members to obtain services from Kaiser hospitals and medical groups. Services outside of Kaiser facilities will not be covered with exception of life threatening emergencies.

As a Kaiser member, you should choose a Kaiser Permanente facility or Kaiser physician's office closest to your home or work, since it's where you will receive most of your care. Members can select a personal physician or nurse practitioner with whom they can develop a relationship at the facility of their choice.

Kaiser Frequently Asked Questions

Yes, the choice is yours. Just call the facility in which you plan to receive care.

What if I need care urgently but it is not an emergency?

Kaiser provides same-day appointments at most locations.

How is emergency care covered with Kaiser?

If you have an emergency, call 911 or go to the nearest hospital. When you have an emergency Kaiser covers the care from Kaiser providers and non-Kaiser providers anywhere in the world. The same level of benefits is available for Emergency Care.

STD replaces 60% of your gross weekly earnings (this income does not include any Social Security Benefits, Worker's Compensation, etc.). The maximum weekly benefit is $2310. Benefits begin following a 60 day elim. period.

GROUP LTD (LONG TERM DISABILITY) INSURANCE*

Long Term Disability (LTD) benefits are designed to pay a monthly benefit to you if you are disabled or have a disability due to injury or sickness. LTD replaces 60% of your gross monthly earnings (this income does not include any Social Security Benefits, Worker's Compensation, etc.). The maximum monthly benefit is $10,000. Benefits begin following a 120 day elimination (waiting) period.

Throughout your disability you must be receiving appropriate care and treatment from a physician for the disabling condition.*

Principal Financial 401 K

Theranos has established a 401(k) program to assist employees in their retirement or in the event they become disabled. Employees meeting eligibility requirements may enroll in this program at no charge during the Open Enrollment following one month of service. Employees may, with certain restrictions, contribute on a tax deferred basis to the Theranos 401(k) program. Employees are free to select the investment options of their choice and may change their selections at any time. All employee 401(k) contributions are vested immediately. If employment with Theranos is terminated for any reason, contributions may be rolled over into another 401(k) or IRA with no penalty.

Flexible Spending Account (FSA)

Theranos also offers a FSA (Flexible Spending Account) administered by ADP. How it works: You contribute a percentage of your pretax salary, up to the limit your plan allows, which you can then use to pay for qualifying expenses, including medical costs that aren't covered by your health insurance, child care, and care for your elderly or disabled dependents. When you sign up for this plan you will be issued a VISA debit card to pay for these expenses. Employees who choose to use the debit card will no longer have to submit paper claims.

Theranos also offers a FSA Transit benefit of $110 per month, which can be allocated to paying for bridge tolls, van pools, etc.

The amount you put into the plan is not reported to the IRS as income, which means your taxable income is less. However, you have to estimate the amount you'll spend before the tax year begins. And if you don't spend it all, you forfeit any amount that's still in your account at the end of the year.

The FSA HealthCare Maximum Amount is $3600 and the Dependent Care Max is $5000.

Paid Time Off (PTO)

Theranos has combined vacation, sick time, and personal time off into a single program called Paid Time Off (PTO). Theranos provides PTO benefit for all regular full-time employees. Eligible employees accrue PTO starting from the first full pay period of employment. PTO time may be used as it accrues. Full-time, regular employees accrue PTO at the rate of 20 days per year, or 6.67 hours per pay period beginning with date of hire. After completion of two years of employment, PTO accrues at the rate of 22 days per year or 7.33 hours per pay period. After completion of five years of employment and on, PTO accrues at 25 days per year or 8.33 hours per pay period.

For more detailed information on how to use your PTO please refer to the company handbook.

Terms to Know

Calendar Year Deductible:
The amount members pay each year to cover medical expenses before the insurance plan starts paying. There is a calendar year deductible for each member, usually with a maximum for a family.

Coinsurance:
Percentage of the bill a member will pay after satisfying any required co-pays and deductibles.

Co-pay:
The fee members pay each time they receive certain medical services. Co-pays do not count toward the calendar year deductible or the out-of-pocket expense limit.

Explanation of Benefits (EOB):
PPO Members are provided EOB's by the insurance company to explain how claims were processed and paid.

Medical Group/IPAs:
A Medical Group is a partnership of Primary Care Physicians and specialists. These Physicians often share the same medical offices and are employed by the Medical Group. An Independent Practice Association (IPA) is a group of independent physicians that have joined together to work with health care companies. IPA physicians usually have their own offices separate from other IPA physicians.

Out-of-Pocket Expense Limit:
The maximum amount paid in a calendar year by a member for covered services. Once the predefined limit has been met, the insurance pays 100% for most covered charges, up to any benefit maximums. Coverage with a PPO has separate in and out of network out-of-pocket expense limit. There is a different maximum out-of-pocket for individual and for family.
